Sensation in Court.

A sensation was sprung by the prosecution in the case of A. Chadwick Burton in the Hustings Court in Richmond yesterday. Burton is charged with collecting money in the name of a church in Richmond. Without a moment's warning, the State introduced as a witness the real wife of the accused, whom he did not know was within hundreds of miles of Richmond. The shock to the man was severe. He trembled and started in dismay at the face of Mrs. Hattie N. Burton, his wife, who gave him back a steady look. Burton turned pale. Not even Burton's counsel knew of the surprise, and took no notice of the woman until asked if she knew Burton. She calmly replied: "I do; I am his wife." At these words Capt. George D. Wise, of counsel for Burton, sprang from his seat, but Gilbert Pollock entered an objection to the evidence, stating that the charge against his client was getting $2 from A. K. Sands under false pretenses and that no matter if he had 10 wives it did not affect the case. The judge sustained the motion, and the story Mrs. Burton had to tell was hushed, so far as the court is concerned. Not so otherwise, however. Mrs. Burton afterwards talked freely. She showed her marriage certificate, dated in Philadelphia, July 27, 1892, signed by Rev. William Dalton, showing that Albert Chadwick Burton and Hattie U. Christow were duly married. She says the woman who masqueraded in Richmond as Burton's wife was Maud Lipker. She says Burton represented himself as a lawyer and minister to Belgium and that after marriage he induced her to sell her house so that he could accept the invitation of President Harrison to move to Indianapolis and take charge of his law practice. They went to Indianapolis, but the practice and connection with President Harrison proved a fake.

Lower Court Reversed.

The Court of Appeals of Virginia in Richmond yesterday reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court of Floyd county in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Fred S. Hoback, the young man who is charged with the murder of his sister's sweetheart, John Jett. In the lower court Hoback was given an eight-year term in the penitentiary, and yesterday's action of the higher court in granting a new trial means that the prisoner cannot be given a longer term if he is again convicted. Jett, it is believed, was preparing to elope with twenty-two-year-old Kate Hoback, sister of the accused man and daughter of Dr. A. J. Hoback, at the time he met his death. Jett was a widower with several children, whose ages ranged, respectively, from two to twenty years. According to the record, his reputation was not good, as his first wife was divorced from him, but married him again, only to suffer more cruel treatment. The Hoback family did not think the intentions of the widower toward Kate were of the most commendable sort. They even doubted whether he actually intended to marry the girl, and consequently they bitterly resented his visits, which sometimes were made late at night. Many threats were exchanged on both sides, and the climax came on January 30, 1905, when, in a fight, young Hoback shot the widower. Both the dead man and the Hobacks are widely known and each fraction has its sympathizers. The lower court was reversed on a purely technical point, involving the manner in which the jury was drawn.

Liability of Railroads.

The affirmation by the Court of Appeals of the appeal case of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company vs. Beasley, Couch & Co. means a loss of only $500 in this particular case to the Chesapeake and Ohio, but the law which the decision sustains affects the railroads generally throughout the State and will greatly increase the amount in which they will be liable for the loss of property intrusted to them for transportation.

The decision of the court is, in substance, that in view of the Virginia statute, which provides that no agreement made by a transportation company for exemption from liability for injury or loss of property by its own neglect or misconduct as a common carier shall be valid; such transportation companies cannot make a valid contract limiting their liability, even though it be in consideration of carriage at a reduced rate and the contract was fairly entered into. Judge Buchannan and Judge Harrison dissent from the opinion of the majority of the court, which is written by Judge Keith.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks when I was was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was relieved by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure, stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is a liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Six Jews Shot.

Warsaw, Jan. 19.—In the court yard of the citadel here Wednesday a detachment of infantry shot six Jews who were alleged to be anarchists. They had been sentenced to death by a court martial for participating in the policy of terrorism.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Prizefighter Killed.

A young prize fighter known as "Kid" Goog, was killed last night in the second round of what was to have been a three-round bout with "Kid" Sis, in the rooms of the George McFadden Athletic Club, back of a saloon at 130th street and Third avenue, New York. Almost the first blow of the round was a powerful right hand swing which struck Goog directly over the heart. His knees wobbled, he tottered an instant with both hands over his heart and then fell to the floor like a log.

Jack Hastings, a prize fighter, who acted as referee, thought it was simply a knockout and called up Jack Davis and Murphy for the fourth bout of the evening. After a round had been fought Goog's seconds became alarmed and notified Hastings that they were unable to bring their man to. There was a doctor in the crowd of 300 spectators and he was called forward. "It's no use, boys, the man is dead," he said, after an examination.

Max Loeb, the manager, made the announcement to the spectators that the exhibition was over for the night and told them to get away as fast as they could.

Four arrests were made of men alleged to be connected with the affair, but Sis, who inflicted the fatal blow, escaped. The spectators left slowly, and fifteen of them were detained by the police as witnesses.

"Kid" Goog's real name is Nathan Rosenberg. He lived in New York. "Kid" Sis's name is unknown to the police. Each was eighteen years of age.

Socialistic Demonstration.

The demonstrations at Hamburg Wednesday against the proposed new election law assumed a more serious aspect that night than indicated in previous dispatches. A barricade was erected in one of the streets leading to the fish market and the police were firmly resisted until midnight. In attempting to disperse the rioters the latter opened fire with every kind of weapon, and about 20 policemen were wounded, one of whom has since died. The demonstrations are mainly organized by socialists and are intended as a protest against the proposed election law which partly disfranchises the poorer classes. Over 20 shops were plundered. The number of rioters wounded is not known, but more than a dozen men were treated at one drug store. Some of these were seriously wounded. A policeman broke the skull of a 12 year-old boy who was trying to turn out a street lamp. The workmen who took part in Wednesday's demonstrations were locked out yesterday morning. Over 4,000 lose their employment.

Buried Without Ceremony.

With no minister present and with no religious ceremonies whatever, the body of Mrs. Mary Powers, widow of John Powers, was buried at the cemetery at Ninevah, Warren county, Wednesday evening. Only the grandchildren of Mrs. Powers were present at the funeral. The coffin was lowered into the grave amid silence. Friends of the woman are unable to account for the absence of a minister at the last rites over her remains. They assert that she was a believer in God all of her life and had been a devout member of the church. She was 78 years old and was a native of Warren county.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Poterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

FRIDAY EVENING. JAN. 19, 1906.

TODAY has been observed as a legal holiday in the State of Virginia, in honor of the birth of Robert E. Lee, one of the greatest men ever born in the Old Dominion or anywhere else on the globe. His life has been viewed from every standpoint by historians during the past third of a century. Many who have taken the pen were in no way interested in the cause for which he exerted all his military skill for four years. This class were therefore impartial, but after having studied him as one of nature's nobleman, gifted with extraordinary genius, of the gentlest and most considerate nature, and animated throughout life by Christian principles, they have found no vulnerable point, and vie with his admirers in according him the praise he deserves. There are many incidents in the life of the great Virginians which appeal to all lovers of great and good men. The last chapters are especially suggestive, as in them the true greatness of the man shines forth. Rising superior to difficulties and disappointments is of all life's issues the most difficult. The ambitious and envious find it peculiarly trying, especially those conscious of possessing genius. It was different with Robert E. Lee. He retired from scenes of strife, and, far from the madding crowd, was greater in defeat than in victory, and his star is now and ever will be the alpha of a great constellation.

THE correspondent of the Birmingham Post at London who seems to have unique sources of news in regard to diplomatic affairs, telegraphs today:

"There is a growing belief in well informed quarters that Japan may soon acquire the Philippines by purchase or exchange. The idea has strongly suggested itself to the American authorities and it is not improbable that the proposal which it is known has been made to America by Japan, though it may be officially denied, will be seriously considered at Washington."

It would be a decided relief to thousands of Americans who have the welfare of the country at heart to see the islands pass from the control of the United States in an honorable manner. They cost originally twenty million of dollars and hundreds of millions have since been expended in subduing the natives and garrisoning the islands to say nothing of the lives sacrificed. These possessions will eventually plunge this country into war, and the sooner they are unloaded the better.

THE members of the State legislature who have offered good roads bills are keenly disappointed by a discovery that their efforts will probably be in vain. The plans of the good roads men so far as creating a fund by increasing the State tax for this special purpose is concerned, are knocked all awry. It appears that under section 189 of the constitution such a special tax as contemplated is prohibited. But the general State tax rate of 20 cents for the expenses of government and the indebtedness of the State may be increased. It would be possible therefore to raise the amount needed for road building by this means. The new constitution, it seems, will be a block to many measures introduced in the legislature.

ANOTHER illustration of the folly of the code of honor existing at the U. S. Naval Academy was brought to light yesterday by the hazing trials when one cadet testified that another had hazed him and abused him because he would not make arrangements for him to be introduced to a certain young lady of the fourth class man's acquaintance. Instances of hazing for reasons of this kind are occasionally brought to light and show that the under class men are almost completely at the mercy of a low fellow who happens to be in the class above them.

From Washington.

Washington, Jan. 19.

The invitations for the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt and Mr. Nicholas Longworth are being engraved in Washington. At least 5,000 invitations to the reception that will be held at the White House after the ceremony are being done here, and presumably as many more are being made in New York. About 500 ceremony cards have been engraved, which will be inclosed to the special friends and officials. These read simply, "Ceremony at 12 o'clock." These are small cards of the very simplest style. Neither the ceremony cards nor the invitations to the reception bear the golden eagle so familiar to all who receive invitations from the White House. The invitations will not be sent out until next week. There will be between 1200 and 1500 people at least at the reception. It is understood there will be additional cards sent out after the wedding, announcing the date of the first day "at home" of the bride and groom. Mr Longworth has announced that he will have eight ushers and a best man, but will give no names until about February 1.

It was announced at the Navy Department today that Midshipman Meriwether's resignation from the Naval Academy will not be accepted. If he is acquitted of the hazing charge upon which he has just been tried, he will be compelled to serve out his year's sentence for the killing of Midshipman Branch; if convicted, the department's course is uncertain, but some method will likely be devised to continue the punishment inflicted in the Branch case, even though dismissal should be the sentence in the hazing case. It is also announced that the three midshipmen who have been apprehended for "frenching" will be given exemplary punishment, although they will not be dismissed from the academy.

It is announced at the State Department this morning that the first United States Ambassador to Japan will be Luke E. Wright, of Tennessee, at present governor general of the Philippines, who will resign that office in order to take up his new duties at Tokio. It was further announced that David E. Thompson, former ambassador to Brazil will be sent to Mexico and Lloyd Griscom, former minister to Japan, will be sent to Brazil. Governor Wright, the new ambassador to Tokio saw service in the Confederate army during the civil war, was later Attorney General of Tennessee and has been a commissioner of the Philippines and Secretary Taft's successor as governor general for 2 years. Vice Governor Henry C. Ide, ranking member of the Philippine Commission has been selected to succeed Gen. Wright as governor general. It is officially announced that Gov. Ide will serve only until June 1 next, when he will retire on his own application, and that Gen. James F. Smith, a member of the commission, will then be appointed to succeed him as governor general.

The House committee on interstate and foreign commerce today decided to vote next Tuesday on the railroad rate bills under consideration. The majority will support the Hepburn bill; the minority the Davey bill. The former substitutes a "reasonable maximum," the latter a "reasonable" for an unreasonable rate. The committee will divide along political lines, and submit reports on the two bills.

The House leaders have agreed to take up the statehood bill next week. It will be reported Tuesday, and brought up for consideration on the day following. Representative Watson, of Indiana, the republican whip, has sent notices for a full republican membership for that day.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Holmes, of New York, who was arrested Wednesday in order to prevent the carrying out of her announced intention of calling on the President, was released this morning and placed in the care of her husband, who had come on from New York. The arrest had been made at his request. She will accompany him to New York later today.

Secretary Wilson, of the Agriculture Department, it can be said, regards as unjust that portion of the report of the Keep commission on the Bureau of Statistics that declares the estimates on crops, other than cotton, have been far out of the way.

The Senate committee on the District of Columbia, at its session today, agreed to report favorably the nomination of Henry L. West as District Commissioner, thus disposing of the Stutler charges against him.

Senator McLaurin, of Mississippi, headed a delegation to the White House today, who came to Washington for the purpose of securing a warship for the Natchez Mardi Gras. The Mississippians told the President that the celebration would take place on the last Tuesday in February and they believed that the event would be of sufficient importance to justify the Secretary of the Navy to order some warship from the Gulf to Natchez. The President gave the delegation a note to Secretary Bonaparte, asking him to make the order requested if some ship could be spared from the gulf without detriment to the service.

The Senate committee on inter-oceanic canals went into executive session this morning to discuss further the contumacy of Poultney Bigelow, the witness who yesterday refused to give names of his informants as to conditions on the isthmus. The committee has wired John F. Wallace, former chief engineer of the canal, asking him when it would be convenient for him to appear and testify. Senator Simmons made the principal speech in opposition to action against Bigelow. He said that if the committee is to take the very first witness and prosecute him, because of his refusal to give information, which he considered confidential, it would have the effect of intimidating every other witness. Senators Gorman and Taliaferro supported the view that newspaper men hold a position analagous to that of an attorney and that they should not be required to disclose confidences reposed in them. These arguments decided the committee and it adjourned with the tacit understanding that Mr. Bigelow should not be prosecuted, that he should not be required to answer the questions to which he objected, and that he should be allowed to continue his testimony next week with regard to the things he actually saw on the isthmus.

Hazing of a brutal nature at the Naval Academy was revealed during the trial of Midshipman Chester A.A. Bloebaum, at Annapolis, yesterday afternoon, more plainly than in any previous proceedings. Three fourth class men testified without the slightest hesitation that they had been hazed by Bloebaum until they were utterly exhausted, one severe physical exercise after another being required of them until they lacked power to continue.

Wilton Heinard, of Washington, cannot see through rabbits' eyes. An operation yesterday at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital there disclosed the fact that the cornea is too opaque. Physicians hope that in course of time the patient's optic nerves will strengthen to such an extent that partial vision can be restored, but announce that the chances of an operation whereby the cornea of the rabbit is grafted are not likely to prove successful.

Mrs. Frances Fananorie, a thrifty housewife, with a distrust for savings banks, kept the family bankroll in a belt around her waist, under her clothing. The present financial crisis at Zion City has brought out the fact that John Alexander Dowie has been temporarily deposed, and that his trip to the Bermudas was part of the general plan to transfer control to the triumvirate with as little publicity as possible.

The Murder of Mrs. Hollister.

Mrs. Franklin C. Hollister, whose brutal murder by Richards Ivens has aroused Chicago, was held a prisoner in an empty house in Montana street for hours before she was killed by a gang of five young hoodlums, of which her slayer was one, according to a story which has just been told to the police.

The story confirms the theory upon which Mrs. Hollister's family and the members of the Wesley Church, in the choir of which she sang, have insisted from the first. Mrs. Hollister, according to the story, was seen by the gang as she came from Montana street, near Lincoln avenue. One of their number overtook her in Lincoln avenue.

"Mrs. Hollister," he said, "there is a poor family starving to death in an empty house in Montana street. Wont you come and see what can be done for them."

"I shall be glad to do so," replied the unsuspecting woman.

She was conducted to where the quartet lay in ambush. As she entered the house, she was seized and gagged. After she had been kept there several hours, Ivens, it is said, insisted she should be killed He was overruled, and her life was spared on condition that she promise not to tell her family or the police. She is said to have promised this.

Ivens and another were delegated to follow Mrs. Hollister home to see that she kept her word. But Ivens, it is said, induced his companion to leave him by telling him he would watch her. He trailed her, it is declared, until she passed his father's carpenter shop. There, it is believed, he decided upon a second attack, and her murder was the result.

Two more attacks upon women in the streets of Chicago came to light yesterday. They occurred on a well-lighted boulevard and in a thickly settled, high-class residence street.

Gen. Scott Shipp and Alexander Hamilton deny that any efforts have been made to choke off an investigation of the affairs of the Virginia Military Institute by the Legislature. The fire started from an unknown cause in the type foundry, and was not discovered until good headway had been made. The damage to the type foundry has not been fixed, but it is likely to run above $10,000 or $12,000, with $9,000 insurance. The damage to the Waddey plant will easily reach $85,000, with insurance amounting to about $40,000. The damage to the hotel has not been estimated, but it will be covered by insurance.

The orthodox Hebrews of Portsmouth, are somewhat exercised because of the teaching of the New Testament and the memorizing by the pupils in the public schools of verses based on biblical account of the nativity. Rev. H. Benmoseche, minister of Gomley Chesed Synogogue of Portsmouth, has consulted with the superintendent of schools, Joseph M. Saunders, on the subject. Asked regarding the matter yesterday morning, the minister stated that it had been reported to him by the parents of a number of Hebrew children who attend the public schools that it is made a part of their schools duties to learn teachings of the New Testament, and that there is a feeling that teachings contrary to the faith of these children's parents should not be taught in the public schools.

The Gazette.

With its issue of the first instant, the Alexandria Gazette, one of the oldest newspapers in America, entered upon its 107th volume. It is not believed, however, that this indicates the exact date of the establishment of the publication. While the files of the Gazette date back to the first year of the nineteenth century, there are copies in existence that bear date in the eighteenth century, one containing an account of the death of George Washington.—[Washington Post.

Beneath the shades of Bonnie Brae
To slumber with the dead.

Loved in life, remembered in death.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate yesterday engaged in an animated discussion over the report of the committee on rules relative to excluding the public from the floor of the House. Senator Phlegar, who offered the amendment to the rules, said experience in previous sessions had demonstrated that it was unwise to admit the public to the floor as heretofore. The State's business demanded that every facility should be given the members, and that a large and spacious gallery had been provided for visitors.

Several Senators supported Mr. Phlegar but there was more opposition than advocacy among the speakers.

After amendments, exempting the families of members and allowing members to take constituents to the cloakrooms the report was adopted.

The following bills were presented: Providing that the judgment of a Circuit or Corporation Court, or other law court of record, in any action of law requiring a plaintiff to remit any part of his recovery as ascertained by the jury may be the subject of review by the Supreme Court.

Today's Telegraphic News

France and Venezuela.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The council of ministers was called together this morning to discuss the subject of France's action toward Venezuela in view of the breaking off of diplomatic relations and the necessity of the government bringing President Castro to time. While no official announcement has been made as to what occurred at the meeting, it is known that Premier Rouvier advocated that energetic measures should be taken, but that France should proceed with caution, in view of the international situation, and the possibility that Venezuela will modify its attitude. The government will consult with the General Assembly and ask its approval of the naval measures before any definite step is taken. Assurances of the approval by the United States of the plans which may be ultimately determined on will also be sought.

The correspondent of the Publishers Press interviewed a high official on the subject of what action France will take in the Venezuelan matter. He said: "Energetic measures certainly will be decided upon, but we shall go slowly in applying them, first, because we do not intend to be rushed by Germany into another Mexican affair and, secondly, because we have reason to believe that President Castro's government is not very firm. In case he is overthrown, his successor might prove more tractable and would give France an opportunity to avoid the unpleasantness of resorting to coercion."

The Moroccan Conference.

Algeciras, Spain, Jan. 19.—The delegates of Morocco to the international conference now in session here are making a strong play to counteract the arrangements being made by the powers for reforming the financial system and police service. They are trying to use the favorite method of Abdul Hamid, Sultan of Turkey in his various disputes with the European governments of setting the powers against one another in order to head off the adoption of regulations which they feel will be undesirable for Morocco. So far, however, their efforts in this direction have not met with any success and it is not likely that they will. The only hope of the Moroccan representatives lies in the possibility of Germany lending them assistance in order to strengthen her hand in Morocco. This hope, however, is very slight, as the German representatives are conducting themselves with strict correctness. The powers are presenting a united front in support of the necessity of internal reforms in Morocco.

There is some danger that the Moroccan delegates will threaten to withdraw from the conference if the powers carry their insistence upon reforms to extremes. What the result would be then no one will venture to predict. It is probable, however, that the conference would continue, and that after a complete programme for reforms had been drawn up, the powers would insist upon Morocco approving them.

Conditions in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—It is officially announced that the Schusselburg prison, Russia's Bastile, is to be closed. Prisoners who have been confined there and are not to be released, will be transferred to some other place of confinement. The government has decided to set free all members of the workmen's council now under arrest as soon as all danger of a demonstration out of sympathy for the martyrs who were killed on Red Sunday is past.

Advices from Warsaw state that socialists there are trying to bring about a general strike on Monday, the anniversary of the Red Sunday massacre in St. Petersburg. Five socialist leaders were executed today in the citadel at Warsaw.

Vienna, Jan. 18.—Another infernal machine to Kill the Czar has been discovered, according to a telegram from St. Petersburg. It was found between the rails on a line which it was expected that the Czar would pass over.

Denounce Monroe Doctrine.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—The German press in discussing the approaching Pan-American Congress, denounces the Monroe doctrine. The newspapers accuse the American government of making systematic attempts to extend the scope of this doctrine. The fact that Secretary Root intends to attend the coming Congress is given as proof that the United States government is encouraging the Pan-American movement.

The Hamburg Nachrichten declares that the United States is menacing the open door in South America and Central American states should combine, it says, to oppose North American aggression. If these states should take such action they could depend upon the support of Europe.

The Liberal Victory.

London, Jan. 1.—Election returns from the agricultural districts which continue to come in today show that the free trade idea is strong in such localities and the liberals are keeping up their victories. Today's returns show that the liberals have won fourteen seats in Herefordshire, Northamptonshire, Cheshire, Lancashire, Suffolk, Surrey, Kirkoudbrightshire, Monmouth, Kent, Montgomery, Gloucestershire, Middlesex and Macclesfield division of Cheshire. The standing of the parties up to the present time is: liberals, 219; conservatives, 94 nationalists, 71; laborites, 34. In the west division of Belfast, Mr. Devlin, nationalist, won out over his unionist opponents.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammed portion of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Accident on Elevated Road.

New York, Jan. 19.—One car of a train on the Kings county elevated railroad was thrown from the elevated structure into the street at Crescent and Fulton streets, New York, today. A second was pushed half-way off the structure, and one person was killed and several injured as a result of a rear end collision. The car thrown into the street was the rear car of the forward train. The motor of the second train crashed into it on a slight curve. The impact threw the trucks from the rail and the car toppled from the structure into the street. The coupling that held the last car to the next, dragged that one partly off the structure but it did not fall. The motor car of the second train was badly damaged but it did not leave the track.

The Greene-Gaynor Case.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 19.—When the Greene and Gaynor case was called this morning General Thomas F. Barr, who was Judge Advocate of the Carter court martial, began for the government by reading to the jury indictment No. 197. This indictment charges conspiracy and the overt acts. It required an hour to read this single indictment, which alleged that by conspiracy, inferior material was used and inferior type of work done, in the Savannah harbor, the accused were given contracts when they were not the lowest bidders, and that they were permitted to do cheaper work than called for by the specifications.

Judge McPherson granted the appeal, and Lear was placed under $10,000 bail.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years from Rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pennsylvania. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Mrs. Smoot's Will Sustained.

The contest of Miss Ella Rose Smoot against the probating of the will of her mother, Mrs. Frances P. Smoot, ended about 7:30 o'clock last night, after engaging the attention of the Corporation Court seven days, with a verdict for the proponents of the will.

When the Gazette's report of the proceedings closed yesterday evening Mr. S. G. Brent, counsel for Miss Ella Rose Smoot, had commenced his argument and made a strong speech which lasted for about two hours. Col. F. L. Smith, counsel for the proponents, closed the case in a clear, logical and convincing argument which lasted for about an hour. The case at 5:20 o'clock was given to the jury which in little over an hour returned the following verdict:

We, the jury, on the issue joined, find that the paper writing dated October 23, 1899, purporting to have been signed by Frances P. Smoot and attested by Henry K. Field and Mark L. Price, jr., and the paper writing dated October 22, 1902, purporting to have been signed by Frances P. Smoot, and attested by Henry K. Field, Mark L. Price, jr., and James L. Adams, and every part thereof is the true last will and testament of Frances P. Smoot, deceased.

LAURENCE STABLER, Foreman.

A motion to set aside the verdict as contrary to law and the evidence, and, in the arrest of judgment, to grant a new trial was overruled and judgment was suspended for 60 days in which to apply to the Court of Appeals for a writ of error. Ten days were given in which to file a bond of $500.

Leadbeater-Alexander Wedding

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. M Alexander, corner of west Chestnut and Charlotte streets, Lancaster, Pa., was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Lillian Marie Alexander, was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Leadbeater, of this city. Only the immediate relatives of both families were present to witness the ceremony. The marriage service of the Episcopal Church was read by Rev. Dr. B. F. Alleman. The bride was attended by Miss Emelie Holahan as maid of honor, and Mr. Edward Leadbeater, of this city, officiated as best man. The bride wore a gown of radiant satin with a tulle veil fastened with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Holahan carried a bouquet of Catharine Mermet roses. After the wedding a dinner was served by Caterer C. W. Eckert. The gifts to the bride were many and useful, their future home in this city, being presented to them by the bride's parents. The bride and groom left on a wedding trip to the South and upon their return they will reside at No. 409 north Washington street, this city. Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. Clara S. Leadbeater, Mrs. John Leadbeater, Miss Lucy C. Leadbeater, Miss Mary Leadbeater, Mr. Wm. G. Leadbeater, Mrs. W. J. Boothe, jr., Mr. E. S. Leadbeater, Miss Edith Ramsay and Miss Clara Moore, of Alexandria; Miss Mary C. Bentley, of Sandy Springs, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lloyd, of East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. C. E. Kummer, of Massachusetts.

Cows on the Rampage.

Two cows, which were averse to boarding the Baltimore steamer, created considerable commotion and no little amusement on the river front yesterday afternoon. Patting, tailtwisting and every other device was used, all to no purpose. One of the animals, refusing to move, was finally thrown upon its side into a quagmire, and when it regained its feet, it looked as though it had been scouped up by a mud machine. The other cow, more bellicose than its mate, made a break up the Strand, scattering spectators in every direction, and ran toward the northern section of the city. It was finally captured and returned to the wharf. The steamer had in the meantime left for Baltimore.

Station House Notes.

Affairs at the station house were quiet this morning. There was but one case for trial, that of Henry Peyton, colored, who had been arrested by Officers Knight and Lyles charged with assaulting Edith Davis. He was fined $5.

There are no new developments in the recent murder case. In fact the trails have been growing cold all the week.

Mayor Paff and the members of the Board of Police Commissioners visited the station house late yesterday afternoon. The object of their unannounced appearance could not be learned.

Eight lodgers were at the station house last night.

Engaged an Alexandria Lawyer.

The suit of Miss Sara Madden in New York to recover $50,000 from Peter Duryea, a noted horseman, for alleged breach of promise of marriage, has been placed upon the calendar of the Supreme Court to be tried in the near future. It is expected that sensational scenes will occur during the trial of the case, as a number of members of New York society will go upon the stand. Nathaniel Cohen of the law firm of Howe & Hummel, is Mr. Duryea's counsel and Louis A. Cuvillier, formerly of this city, is Miss Madden's lawyer.

Preparations for New Bridge.

The work of cleaning out the outlet from the tidal basin in Washington where the new concrete bridge is to be built across the outlet, has been started by the contractors for the new bridge, the Penn Bridge Company. It is stated the construction of the cofferdams about the site of the piers will be started in a few days, and that the work will be pushed rapidly ahead.

Jones's Point Lighthouse.

Mrs. Margaret Greenwood has been appointed acting keeper of Jones's Point light station, near Alexandria, in place of her husband, Benjamin Greenwood, deceased. In mentioning the names yesterday of the staff of phyicians of the Alexandria Hospital, the name of Dr. Llewellyn Powell was inadvertently published as Dr. Llewellyn.

General Lee's Birthday.

Today has been observed throughout Virginia in commemoration of the birth of General Robert E. Lee. Some of the State offices have been closed and public and private schools have observed the day as a holiday. The banks were also closed. All arrangements for the annual reunion and banquet by R. E Camp of Confederate Veterans tonight have been perfected, and an enjoyable time is anticipated by all who purpose to attend. Confederate Veteran's Hall, where the reunion has been held during the past two or three years, has been handsomely and tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the ladies of the auxiliary societies who will furnish the banquet have everything in readiness. The festivities will begin at 8 o'clock. Senator Blackburn and Congressman Clark will be the principal speakers of the evening.

Officers Installed.

At a regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the A. O. H. Division No. 1 last night, the following officers were installed for the following year. Mrs. Zora Hill, president; Mrs. George Kimball, vice president; Mrs. Milton R. Evans, recording secretary; Miss Julia Ryan, financial secretary; Mrs. Jacob Brill, treasurer; Miss Mary Petitt, sergeant at arms; Miss Clare Martin, sentinel; and Misses Lawler, Bashford, Sheehey, Travers and Nugent, standing committee; Miss Nugent, organist. After the meeting the members repaired to Mrs. Bohraus's cafe, where all the delicacies of the season were served, and all enjoyed a delightful evening.

To be Investigated.

Dr. W. R Purvis, Coroner, has directed Demaine & Sons, undertakers, to take charge of the remains of the infant recently found under the floor of an unoccupied house on Commerce street. The body, it will be remembered, was covered with lime. The remains were found by Mr. Hall, a carpenter. The body had been placed where discovered through a hole in the floor, after which a piece of tin had been nailed over the opening. Dr. Purvis will make the proper investigation.

The schooner Robert H. Stevenson, which was wrecked recently on Diamond Shoals during a gale, had been chartered by the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company to bring a load of phosphate rock from Florida to this port.

The alarm of fire about 12:15 o'clock last night was caused by a blaze on the roof of the house at the northwest corner of Oronoco and Columbus streets. The damage was slight. The fire broke out again about two hours later, and was extinguished by an extinguisher of the Reliance company.

President's Reception.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained the judiciary last night, it being the second of the State receptions of the season. The occasion attracted at least 2,000 persons, and was one of the most enjoyable of the functions that have taken place at the White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt wore a gold-embroidered gown of white velvet, with magnificent diamonds; Mrs. Fairbanks, her inauguration ball gown, of cream satin, embossed in gold flowers, and handsome jewels; Mrs. Root was in white satin and lace; Mrs. Shaw wore a gown of violet-colored panne velvet; Mrs. Taft, white lace frock, with pearls; Mrs. Cortelyou, white embroidered chiffon, and Mrs. Metcalf, a costume of pink panne velvet.

Miss Roosevelt wore her inauguration ball gown, a princess costume of light blue satin, with fichu of chiffon and lace. A splendid diamond necklace, the Christmas gift of her father, completed a most becoming toilette. Mrs. Timmons, a frock of white chiffon, pailletted with mother of pearls.

It is said that the coal miners at their convention will demand an increase in wages of from 10 to 15 per cent.

Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, has fixed March 19th as the date for the execution of Frank Johnson, in Lawrence county.

Beattie's private bank at Elwood, seven miles south of Joliet, Ill., was blown up by robbers last night and $1,000 taken, supposedly by two men who escaped on a tricycle car.

The bodies of eighteen men who met death in the Detroit Mine at Paint Creek, W. Va., yesterday, have all been recovered. The accident was caused by an explosion of dust. The condition of the bodies shows that death was caused by suffocation.

The boiler in the plant of the Annis Grain and Lumber Company, at Londonderry, N. H., blew up at 8 o'clock this morning, badly damaging the buildings and injuring Justin Sanborn, the engineer. Fortunately no one was killed, and no one but Sanborn was injured.

Charles L. Vandalsen, age 28, was hanged at Louisville, Ky., today for the murder of his mistress, Gannie Porter, Sept. 19, 1901. The execution was witnessed by Mrs. James Sadler, sister of Vandalsen's victim, and a cousin, Miss Della Smith. As Vandalsen was hanging Mrs. Sadler viewed his twirching body with evident pleasure, and exclaimed: "Shiver, you are dying like a chicken."

The case of Cadet Bloebaum, who has been on trial before the hazing court martial at the Naval Academy, charged with the hazing of six midshipmen of the fourth class, was submitted to the court for a verdict at 10:55 this morning. The court reached its verdict in less than five minutes. There is not the slightest doubt but that Bloebaum has been convicted. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the trial of Charles M. James, of Grinnell, Iowa, began before the court. The case against James is supported by eight specifications alleged the hazing of seven fourth classmen.

Joe Gans and Mike (Twin) Sullivan will meet at San Francisco tonight in what is scheduled to be a twenty round contest.

After Insurance Companies.

Mr. Caton, the floor leader of the House of Delegates, yesterday introduced a bill providing for the creation of an insurance bureau to be an adjunct to the State Corporation Commission, which is to supervise and control it. Under the control of this bureau are to be placed all the life and fire insurance companies, both stock and mutual, all trust and fidelity companies engaged in becoming surety upon bonds of any description, and all fraternal assessment of co-operative insurance companies or associations which assume risks upon the lives of individuals. The proposed measure, however, excludes from its operations the Masonic order and other like orders that have not for their principal object the insurance of the lives of their members. The bill provides for the election by the legislature of a commissioner of insurance for a term of four years, and also for a deputy and such other assistants as may be necessary to carry out the act. The expenses of maintaining the bureau are levied upon insurance companies and like organizations in the shape of a tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent. upon their premium receipts from business done in Virginia. Around the insurer, as well as the insured, the measure throws the necessary safeguards for protection, as it eliminates "wildcat," and irresponsible insurance companies, and precludes the possibility of their being incorporated or doing business in the State. The position of commissioner carries a salary of $3,500.

Delegate Rew, of Accomac, has introduced a bill concerning insurance corporations. The measure requires that the insurance companies shall invest the surplus derived from Virginia business in United States or Virginia bonds or in the bonds of the counties and cities in the State, and these securities are to be held as a trust for the benefit of Virginia policyholders.

Dismissed Cadet Apologizes.

Before Midshipman Trenmor Coffin, jr., of Carson City, Nev., who was dismissed for the hazing of Jerdone P. Kimbrough, of Tennessee, left Annapolis yesterday, he made amends, so far as possible, to young Kimbrough through his grandfather, Mr. Jerdone Pettus, in a frank and manly manner, and told him he was unwilling to leave without letting both of them know that he regretted the occurrence very much and wished that there be no hard feelings on the part of any of them. He said that he did not consider Kimbrough in the least to blame for his dismissal, but said that he had confessed to save a number of other midshipmen. The statement was accepted in the spirit it was given by Mr. Pettus and conveyed to his grandson. Coffin's manly action is in contrast to those who, instead of standing by him in the matter, have ostracised him because he was the innocent cause of the agitation against hazing.

Mine Disaster.

A terrific explosion of dust in the Detroit Mine, of Paint Creek, W. Va., cost out the lives of eighteen miners yesterday in the twinkling of an eye. The explosion was a tremendous one, shaking the mountain and throwing heavy timbers from the mouth of the mine clear across the intervening valley and burying them in the opposite mountain side.

The force of the explosion demolished all the brattices in the mine, blowing them to pieces, although they were composed of two stone walls built several feet apart and the intervening space filled in with small pieces. Two mules, used for hauling the coal from the low entries, were tethered a hundred feet inside from the mouth of the mine. Both were thrown from the mine and down the mountain side to the railroad track and crushed so badly that the only way they could be distinguished as mules was by their hoofs.

Woman Killed by a Negro.

Miss Florence W. Allinson, about thirty-five years of age, who was living in the farmhouse on the country seat of Mrs. E. R. Strawbridge, near Moorestown, N. J., was found dead in the stable yesterday with a strap fastened about her throat and her skull crushed. Beside the body lay the club with which she had been killed. The only other occupant of the house at the time was Bessie Walker, a child six years old, from whom it was learned that a tall negro had called at the house a few minutes after Miss Allinson had gone to the stable to feed the cow. He told the child to go into the attic and play, and she did so. Then he ransacked the house, securing a gold watch and some jewelry belonging to Miss Allinson, also a sum of money. The negro then went to the stable, and, after assaulting Miss Allinson, killed her and made his escape.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 19, 1906

The Destruction of Pompeii.

It was a summer evening bright.
Another day had almost passed;
The day was fading into night
When lo! there came a furious blast
Out of the earth. It seemed to rise
As though its soul was the vaulted skies.
Again it came; again it roared;
Again to the skies once more it soared.
Escape Pompeiians before its too late,
For in that blast lies your fate.
Before another dawn has broke
Pompeii will be nothing but lava and smoke.
Already the heavens are obscured by fire
Of the volcano's wrathful glare,
As though they were the heaven's ire,
Leagued with the demons of despair.
After a night in terror spent,
Those who escaped their steps unbent.
Back toward Pompeii they came,
To find there nothing but smoke and flame.

Salary Increased.

Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, formerly rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Norfolk, and now missionary secretary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America, with headquarters in New York, arrived at Norfolk yesterday to address the Woman's Auxiliary and to make an address at the farewell service to be tendered Rev. H St. George Tucker, missionary to Japan, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church last night. Before Dr. Lloyd reached Norfolk it was learned that he had just been the recipient at the hands of the Board of Missions, in session in New York, of very distinguished consideration. Dr. Lloyd has three times been elected bishop since he has been in the office of missionary secretary, and he has as often declined, feeling that he should remain at the head of the missionary work of the church. When he recently declined the coadjutor bishopric of Southern Virginia a warm resolution of satisfaction was adopted by the board of missions, and this board at a recent meeting voted him an increase of salary from $5,000 a year to $7,000, and also voted to supply him a residence in New York city.

State Finances.

The report of the auditor of public accounts for the year 1905 has been issued to the Governor and the General Assembly. It shows an increase of the surplus funds of the State over last year's surplus of $150,428.57.

The receipts and disbursements for the year were as follows:

Amount on hand Oct. 1, 1904	$516,003.87
Receipts from all sources during the year	4,579,204.54
		$5,095,208.41
Disbursements during the year	4,428,776.07
Balance on hand Oct. 1, 1905	$666,432 34

Eloped to Hagerstown.

Townsend N. Huff, a young farmer, of Millwood, Clarke county, and Miss Estelle Lee, 17 years old, of Paris, Fauquier county, daughter of William Lee, went to Winchester Wednesday to act as attendants at the wedding of William H. Benson and Miss Lena Drish, which took place at Middletown, Frederick county, last night. Mr. Huff and Miss Lee concluded, however, to partake of the joys of connubial bliss themselves. Accordingly, they boarded the afternoon train on the Cumberland Valley Railroad for Hagerstown, Md., to be married.

Attacked by a Wildcat

Elward Taylor was attacked by a wildcat in the woods a mile from Summit Point, Jefferson county, W. Va., Wednesday, and badly clawed and bitten. Taylor, although a strong man, was unable to resist the onslaught of the beast and would have been fatally injured but for Woodward Snyder, who emptied the contents of a shotgun into the animal, killing it instantly. The cat measured three feet in length and weighed 13 pounds.

The Diamond Cure.

The latest news from Paris, is, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough for fourteen years. Nothing helped me until I took Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief and affected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure for Throat and Lung Troubles. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bott'e free.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the Liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Soothing and Comforting.

The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This Salve draws out the inflammation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding Nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street
